

CBC/Radio-Canada: What We Offer

27

TV stations with local newscasts

300+

original TV shows from independent producers every year

80+

shows created for streaming services, CBC Gem and ICI TOU.TV

88

radio stations

18

digital newscasts on the Radio-Canada Info app

50+

programs offered partly or solely in Indigenous languages across all platforms

150+

hours of original content on CBC News Explore, CBC's free 24/7 streaming news channel, every year

35+
drive-home shows

21
weekend shows on CBC Radio One

120+
daily French-language local and regional news shows

450+

daily online news articles

12

mobile apps for news, sports, entertainment and more

43

regional sections under CBC.ca and Radio-Canada.ca

Every year, CBC/Radio-Canada offers Canadians:

45,000+

hours of Canadian TV content including:

22,000+

hours of news and information

10,000

hours of Canadian drama, comedy and other entertainment

2,000

hours of kids content

95,000

hours of local news and programming on radio

13,000+

hours of music on radio

48,000+

hours of podcast and other audio content online

11,000+

hours of live sports coverage on our digital platforms

Canada's largest commissioner of original Canadian content

More than

$400M

invested in independent production across Canada every year

CBC's Push explores the world of Bean Gill and the "Wheelie Peeps," friends bonded by their shared experience of life on wheels.

CBC  Radio-Canada